Please NOTE:

Covid19: as with many universities, the UNSA was also highly affected by the pandemic situation and changes were needed to be implemented for the beginning of classes and type of teaching. We do hope in Autumn 2022 we will be able to have close-to-normal teaching. You will be notified on time.

Holidays and breaks: the UNSA does not have longer breaks like many European universities (Winter break, Christmas break, Spring break, etc). The UNSA will be closed or not have organized classes during many public and religious holidays throughout the year (please refer to the list of public and religious holidays below).

Public and religious holidays that affect the working time of the University of Sarajevo:

- 1-2 January – New Year (closed)

- 7 January – Orthodox Christmas (no class activities)
- 1 March – B&H’s Independence day (closed)
- March, April, and May – since there is no fixed date for Catholic and Orthodox Easter and Jewish Pesah, you will be notified of the exact dates that affect the UNSA working time and expect no class activities
- 1 & 2 May – International Labour Day (closed)
- May – since there is no fixed date for Eid Ramadan you will be notified of the exact dates that affect the UNSA working time and expect no class activities
- July – since there is no fixed date for Eid al Adha you will be notified of the exact dates that affect the UNSA working time and expect no class activities
- 25 November – B&H’s Statehood day (closed)
